CENTRES AND ACADEMIES

Anwar Jamal Kidwai Mass Communication Research Centre

The AJK Mass Communication Research Centre is a premier media institution in India. Founded in 1982 by Anwar Jamal Kidwai (former VC of Jamia Millia Islamia and later, Chairman of the Centre), the MCRC offers post-graduate courses in the art, craft and technology of the modern media. The MCRC provides the highest standard of media education and training with a professionally and academically accomplished faculty and a broad spectrum of visiting professionals.

A.J. Kidwai established the MCRC in collaboration with York University, Toronto and the Canadian International Development Aid Agency. The CIDA provided the MCRC with a range of sophisticated production equipment while York University sent the first generation of teachers. The team from York was led by distinguished documentary filmmaker James Beveridge, a close associate of documentary pioneer John Grierson, founder of the National Film Board of Canada.

AJ Kidwai envisioned the institute as providing an intensive and integrated media education that would enable students to develop their individual expertise and skills within a secular and collaborative working environment. Upholding the philosophy & vision of its founders, the institute continues to provide its students a comprehensive media education that nurtures the individual aspirations of students while inspiring them to make a meaningful contribution to the social environment within which they work. The Centre continues to work within this broad mandate while regularly updates its courses to meet the growing challenges of contemporary media. These efforts have been constantly appreciated and supported by generous grants from the government and other international agencies like Japan International Cooperation Agency (JICA).

To provide international exposure and expertise to the students, the Centre has also forged collaborative ties with the University of York, Toronto (Canada), University of Westminster, London(UK) and Sciences Po, Paris(France).

The whole attempt at the MCRC is to create competent and thoughtful media practitioners whose engagement with the world of media is both professional and intellectual.

Collaborations and Faculty and Student Exchange:

- Introduction of M.A. in Mathematics Education in collaboration with Delhi University:

AJK MCRC and the Delhi University have jointly introduced an M.A. in Mathematics Education under the concept of Meta University. This is for the first time when two central universities have come together to start a joint degree programme. Classes of the said programme are being held at AJKMCRC and Cluster Innovation Centre Delhi University.

- The University of York, Toronto, Canada:

AJKMCRC was established in collaboration with the York University in 1983. Over a period of time we lost touch with the York University. Now under the terms and conditions of a MoU signed between the York and Jamia AJKMCRC has revived the old ties with York. The Centre is now in the process of developing the students and faculty exchange programmes with York.

- University of Westminster:

JMI has signed another MoU with the University of Westminster UK. Under the terms and conditions of that MoU AJKMCRC is collaborating with UoW in diverse fields. The Director has already visited the UoW once in September 2012 to discuss the possibilities of developing the students and faculty exchange programmes between the two institutions and will go to London again in July under the UKIERI grant.

- The Centre is also discussing the possibilities of tie ups with other universities including the University of Dundee (famous for its animation course), University of Portsmouth (famous in the area of research) and Goldsmiths University of London (best known for its Screen Documentary course).

- Sciences Po Paris:

- Under an MoU signed between Jamia Millia Islamia and Sciences Po Paris, MCRC is running a very successful students exchange programme with Sciences Po for the past six years. Under this exchange programme every year 03 students from Sciences Po come to MCRC for a period of 6 to 12 months and 03 students of MCRC go to Paris to spend at least 06 weeks there. The success of this exchange programme testifies that MCRC is capable of developing and handling similar students and faculty exchange programmes with other universities.

Grants from Outside Agencies:

- The Centre received a joint grant with the University of Westminster in December, 2012 to introduce Practise Based Ph.D. in AJKMCRC.
- The Centre received a Fulbright grant for the visit of a specialist to help in the revision of the syllabus of M.A. Convergent Journalism Programme.
- Course restructuring: MA Mass Communication programme's syllabus has been revised in association with professionals from the York University, Canada, to introduce Digital Cinema. The curriculum of M.A. Convergent Journalism has also been restructured with the help of Fulbright scholar Dr. Richard J. Schaefer.

CENTRE FOR JAWAHARLAL NEHRU STUDIES

The Centre for Jawaharlal Nehru Studies, Jamia Millia Islamia, envisages teaching and research on Contemporary India. The University ordinance establishing the Centre envisages that it would provide teaching and research inputs on “Nehruvian Studies”- Nehruvian ideas, their application and impact, the process by which these were marginalized, and the means by which they may be applicable in terms of their relevance in the current scenario. The Centre is committed to evolve into a nodal point for research on the processes that have led to the growth of modernized polity, economy, society and culture in contemporary India. The Centre is an interdisciplinary unit that aims at generating a spirit of scientific inquiry, a democratic culture and secular values in the academic world. It aims to develop archival base on contemporary movements covering all social, political and economic issues especially in terms of documents related to major political forces, movements, grass root organization and voluntary sector groups, newspaper, and even documents from different regions.

CENTRE FOR NANOSCIENCE AND NANOTECHNOLOGY

Centre Overview

Jamia Millia Islamia has recently created a new Centre, namely the Centre for Nanoscience and Nanotechnology with the funding from UGC. The mission of this Centre is to promote forefront basic and applied research in the fields of Nanoscience and Nanotechnology, with potential applications towards fulfilling national strategic and societal needs. The main research focus of the Centre includes fabrication of Nano-devices, development of Nano-materials, Nano-structures, Nano-biotechnology, Nano-medicine, and appropriate characterization techniques in a phased manner.

ObjectivesThe Centre will work with the following objectives:

- To create a dynamic teaching and research atmosphere that will promote interaction and synergies among the different groups of scientists working in the field of Nanoscience & Nanotechnology.

- The Centre will also have its own Ph.D. program in different fields of Nanoscience and Nanotechnology.
- To establish facilities that will give researchers access to advanced scientific equipment for characterization and preparation of nanomaterials for Nanotechnology applications.
- To provide a dynamic focal point for the development of future high-tech industries in India.
- To attract researchers from diverse fields of research such as Physics, Chemistry, Applied Sciences as well as Engineering and Medicine.
- The Centre will establish joint collaborative programs with the up-coming industries in the field of Nanotechnology.

Procurement of Books

- Some 50 books on different topics related to Nanotechnology are added to the existing library of the Centre.

Procurement of New Equipments

- The Centre is in the process of procuring following sophisticated nano material preparation and nano scale characterization equipments from the UGC funding:
 1. HRSEM,
 2. HRTEM,
 3. HRXRD,
 4. RF Sputtering system,
 5. Optical Microscope
 6. Ball mill

Out of these, three equipments are already arrived and other three are in process at different stages of arrival at Jamia and efforts are already in progress to keep the necessary infrastructure as per the requirements of the equipment ready, so that the equipments can be installed.

Setting of a new Nanotechnology Lab

A unique facility on the synthesis of Single Wall Carbon Nanotube (SWNT) has been established at the Centre for Nanoscience and Nanotechnology and the same has been dedicated by Mr. Najeeb Jung, Hon. Vice Chancellor, Jamia Millia Islamia, to the Centre on December 28, 2012. This facility is exclusively dedicated for the synthesis of semiconducting single wall carbon nanotubes and grapheme. Once perfected, the grown SWNT's shall be utilized for the fabrication of emerging nanoscale electronic devices, integrated circuits and MEMS/NEMS by the Centre and other potential users in the country. This unique facility of its type in the country is exclusively focused to carry out the development of synthesis process of semiconducting single wall carbon nanotubes with reproducible and controllable properties, which still is a challenging research area world over and very limited technical data is available in the open literature. The Centre has plans to channelize its research and development activities in the area of SWNT based nano device fabrication with an emphasis on nano biosensors, lab on chip/drug delivery system, physical, chemical and bio sensors and ultra high speed devices and circuits. Using this facility initial growth results are very encouraging and very good CNT's with highly graphitize walls could be achieved. More experiments are in progress with different process parameters and catalysts to achieve the controlled growth of SWNT's with repetitive properties.

NELSON MANDELA CENTRE FOR PEACE & CONFLICT RESOLUTION

The Nelson Mandela Centre for Peace & Conflict Resolution was launched in 2004 and was one of the first of its kind in an Indian university. Its chief focus is comparative and contemporary studies, and it aims to address the lack of serious and purposeful analysis of types and sources of conflict in our country and neighbourhood, and the methods of dealing with them that India has adopted.

Objectives of the Centre:

- To research and document Indian approaches to the promotion of peace, at home and abroad.
- To develop a curriculum of peace and conflict studies based on national, regional and global experiences.
- To build capacity for conflict prevention and resolution in government and civil society agencies.
- To promote a community of academic expertise in conflict prevention, management, and post-conflict peace building.

The Centre has trained students from different parts of India especially the conflict regions of Northeast and Kashmir. The Centre has also had students from Nepal, Bangladesh, Pakistan, Sri Lanka, Indonesia, Thailand and Afghanistan. Under the student exchange programme students have also come from France. An important component of the MA course is a weeklong fieldwork trip to conflict areas.

Over the years, the Centre has focused on research, curriculum development and teaching, organized seminars /conferences, held short training programs for faculty, administration and civil society, hosted visiting fellows, organized interactions with eminent leaders in peacemaking and partnered with other universities and institutions working in the field of peace and conflict studies.

Curriculum Development (European Union Asia Link Project): The Centre undertook a three-year project on “Peacemaking and Peace-Building in Europe & South Asia (Human Resource and Curriculum Development)” from March 2008 to February 2011. As part of the project, four Course Modules were prepared through joint curriculum development, faculty exchanges, and “test run” programs held in partner universities in Europe and South Asia. A peace network of 25 institutions has been created.

The centre provides a hygienic, modern and creative environment for the children throughout. It provides an environment that is free from unlawful discrimination of any type, including discrimination based on race, colour, religion, sex and natural origin. It is catering to the children of parents with full time or part time jobs. The concept of leaving the young ones under the care of professional care-takers is picking up quickly in our country due to the ever increasing number of nuclear families and working parents. We nurture and holistically develop these little ones into confident individuals. We try to inculcate good habits related to health and hygiene, eating, walking, talking and social behaviours.
